Welcome Message

From DPAC's Director of Community Engagement

It is with excitement that DPAC celebrates the 15th anniversary of The DPAC Rising Star Awards this season.

Over the past 15 years this program has certainly evolved, but the mission remains the same: to pay tribute to the incredible work being done by high school musical theatre programs across central North Carolina.

Each year I am inspired by the young talent we meet through this program, and by the creativity and passion we see from all of our participating schools.

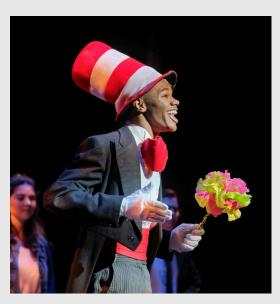

Whether you are an educator or a student, the commitment and joy you bring to your craft is the reason this program shines so brightly.

This handbook is here to support you through the participation process, answer your questions, and help you make the most of your Rising Star experience. I hope you find inspiration, clarity, and encouragement in these pages.

Here's to another season of excellence, collaboration, and unforgettable performances. DPAC is honored to be a part of your school year, and we can't wait to cheer you on.

About The DPAC Rising Star Awards

The DPAC Rising Star Awards celebrates outstanding achievements in high school musical theatre throughout central North Carolina. Since 2010, this program has focused attention on the meaningful work being done both on and off the stage by dedicated teachers and students.

Throughout the school year, DPAC sends adjudicators to review musical productions presented by participating high schools.

Rising Star judges are tasked with identifying the biggest successes made by schools each season, and they are also responsible for selecting 20 student performers as "Finalists". Finalists participate in two weeks of coaching and rehearsals leading up to The DPAC Rising Star Awards ceremony, an event that takes place on DPAC's stage each May.

The awards ceremony showcases the incredible talent possessed by the 20 Finalists, and also highlights a large Ensemble consisting of students from every participating high school. Awards are distributed all evening long, recognizing student talent (both on stage and off), and overall production achievements made by participating school programs.

The awards ceremony is adjudicated live by a panel of three esteemed ceremony judges who determine which two student Finalists are named "Best Actor" and "Best Actress". These two winning students advance to compete nationally at the National High School Musical Theater Awards® in New York City.

The DPAC Rising Star Awards are made possible by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina.

About The National High School Musical Theatre Awards®

The DPAC Rising Star Awards are a member of the National High School Musical Theatre Awards®, also affectionately known as the Jimmy Awards® (named after James Nederlander Sr.). This is a national program that unites high school musical theatre awards programs from across the country.

The Jimmy Awards® impacts over 150,000 students annually who participate in high school musical theatre competitions sponsored by over 55 professional theatres (like DPAC) throughout the US.

Nominees selected by regional awards programs (like The DPAC Rising Star Awards) travel to New York City to participate in the national program each June. Nominees undergo a rigorous theatre intensive that includes coaching sessions, training, and rehearsals led by some of Broadway's most accomplished professionals, culminating in an extraordinary on-night-only talent showcase on the Minskoff Theatre stage where Disney's The Lion King performs year round.

The DPAC Rising Star Awards and the Jimmy Awards® offer incredible exposure to young theatre artists, and have the potential to catapult the careers of Broadway's future stars.

MISSION

The DPAC Rising Star Awards celebrate and elevate excellence in high school musical theatre across our region. Through recognition, educational experiences, and community connection, we honor the students, educators, and creative teams whose talent and dedication bring stories to life on stage.

Registration & Application Process

The DPAC Rising Star Awards has a three step process for participating schools.

BEFORE GETTING STARTED: each participating school musical should select one staff member or responsible adult associated with the program to act as the "School Representative". This is most typically the school's theater teacher or program director. This person will become DPAC's main point-of-contact for the season, and they will be responsible for submitting all three steps of the registration and application process. This person must have a Google Account in order to successfully submit steps one and two.

SCHOOL MUSICAL REGISTRATION

Due by December 1, 2025.

This step asks for basic contact information for each school, the name of the musical being registered, and the dates of the production.

PRE-SHOW DETAILS & STUDENT NOMINATIONS

Due two weeks prior to your school musical's opening night performance.

This step asks for more detailed show information which DPAC will provide to the judges attending that production.

POST-SHOW PRODUCTION SUBMISSIONS

Due two weeks after your school musical's closing performance, or by April 19, 2026 (whichever comes first)

This final step asks for sheet music, along with photos and videos highlighting the overall production and/or nominated student performances. These items are used to help refresh judge's memories during the decision-making process, and some photos might be used on DPAC's social media pages.

Step One

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

The first step, School Musical Registration, is due by December 1, 2025.

Any school submissions received after this registration deadline will require special approval and will be subject to the judges' availability.

Schools will be asked to submit the following things when completing this step:

- School Name
- School Address
- Name of Designated School Representative
- Email Address for Designated School Representative
- Cell Phone Number for Designated School Representative
- Name of Musical
- Licensing House
- Production Dates and Showtimes
- Production Ticket Sales Info (so DPAC can promote your show!)
- School Logo
- School and/or Theatre Department Instagram Handle
- Comp Ticket Agreement (agreeing to provide complimentary tickets for judges to attend your show)
- Visual Arts Teacher Name
- Visual Arts Teacher Email Address

School Musical Registration Guidelines

Don't know all of the details yet?

- Please go ahead and register, and fill us in when you know the rest.
- If you are unable to confirm show specific details (including show dates or even the name of the musical) by the registration deadline, but you do know that your school plans on participating, you are still welcome to register.
- We just ask that you follow up with us as soon as you're able so that we can update things accordingly.

Does your school want to register more than one musical this school year?

- Schools are welcome to register up to two musical productions for review each season.
- If you choose to register a second musical, you must complete two separate registration forms (one for each musical).

Are you planning on double casting?

- Please note that DPAC does not allow for schools to submit musicals that are double cast.
- When a school musical has been double cast, it becomes very challenging for DPAC to know how to send judges to review the appropriate performances (the shows that feature your Best Actor and Best Actress nominees). It is also very challenging for each nominated student to be adjudicated by the same amount of judges – making the judging uneven and unfair.
- DPAC has made a few exceptions to this rule in the past, and we will do our best to work with your program this season if this rule creates havoc.
  - If you must double cast a production, DPAC requires that you only nominate students from one cast for the Best Actor and Best Actress awards.
  - If you must double cast a production, DPAC requires that you only share the dates of your production that will feature all of your nominated students.

Why does DPAC ask for the visual arts teacher contact information?

- Each school will be invited to submit artwork to be on display in DPAC's lobby at The DPAC Rising Star Awards' ceremony in May.
- This contact information will allow us to reach out to the appropriate person at your school to provide further details.

Step Two

CLICK HERE TO SUBMIT STEP 2

The second step, Pre-Show Details and Student Nominations, is due two weeks prior to Opening Night of the registered musical.

  - If you'll have an orchestra, is this a student orchestra or professional?
- [OPTIONAL] Comments (anything you'd like the judges to know before adjudicating)

Best Actor and Best Actress Nomination Guidelines

How many students can each school nominate for Best Actor & Best Actress?

- Each registered musical may nominate up to 4 students for adjudication.
  - DPAC recommends nominating 2 students for Best Actor and 2 students for Best Actress.
  - While even distribution is recommended, the distribution of student nominations is entirely up to each participating school.
    - Example 1: Your school is presenting Legally Blonde The Musical. You are welcome to nominate one student for Best Actor for the role of Warner, and three students for Best Actress for roles like Elle Woods, Paulette and Vivienne Kensington.
    - Example 2: Your school is presenting SIX The Musical: Teen Edition. You are welcome to nominate four students for Best Actress for roles like Anne Boleyn, Jane Seymour, Catherine Parr, and Katharine Howard.
  - Schools are not required to nominate a total of 4 students, or any students at all. You are welcome to nominate however many students feels appropriate, so long as the number of nominated students does not exceed 4.
    - Example 1: Your school is presenting The Sound of Music. You are welcome to nominate one student for Best Actor for playing Captain von Trapp, and two students for Best Actress for playing Maria and Mother Abbess.
    - Example 2: Your school is presenting Little Shop of Horrors. The student playing Audrey does not wish to be nominated. You are welcome to nominate one student for Best Actor for playing Seymour.

How does a school nominate students if the show is double cast?

- As mentioned in the Guidelines for School Musical Registration, The DPAC Rising Star Awards do not allow for double casting.
- Double casting can cause major complications for our judges knowing which performance dates to attend, and/or evenly reviewing each nominated student.
- If your school has double cast, you must:
  - Only nominate students from one cast
  - Only share the performance dates that will feature that cast which includes those nominated students.
- Otherwise, DPAC cannot guarantee that your student's performances are adjudicated fairly.

Best Actor and Best Actress Nomination Guidelines (Continued)

Can we nominate any student we want to?

- Each nominated student must be cast in a 'Qualifying Role' these roles are predetermined by the National High School Musical Theatre Awards®.
  - A complete list of approved roles can be found at jimmyawards.com, or by clicking here.
  - If you notice that a lead role is not currently approved, DPAC is able to submit an appeal for the National High School Musical Theatre Awards® to review and consider.
    - If you would like to inquire about making an appeal, please email Megan Rindoks at mrindoks@dpacnc.com.

How do we nominate students who are non-binary or gender-diverse? Or, what if we play with gender bending when we cast our production?

- The category names "Best Actor" and "Best Actress" align with the structure of the National High School Musical Theatre Awards®.
- We proudly welcome and support students of all gender identities. While the titles "Best Actor" and "Best Actress" are gendered, students are encouraged to be nominated in the category that feels most appropriate and affirming to them.
  - Example: Your school is presenting Something Rotten and a non-binary student is cast as William Shakespeare. After consulting with the student, they feel most comfortable being nominated within the Best Actress category. You are welcome to nominate this student for Best Actress.
- DPAC also supports any decisions to play with gender bending when casting. If you cast a female identifying student in a traditionally male role, that student can still be nominated for Best Actress (or vice-versa).
  - Example: Your school is presenting Tarzan. You cast a female identifying student in the role of Tarzan. This student can be nominated for Best Actress.
- If you have any questions about nominating a non-binary or gender-diverse student, please don't hesitate to contact Megan Rindoks at mrindoks@dpacnc.com for further guidance.

Student Production Awards Nomination Guidelines

Guidelines for Best Student Costume Designer, Lighting Designer and Choreographer Nominations:

- Each registered school musical that has placed a student in one of these leadership positions is welcome to nominate that student for these awards categories.
- Any nominated student must have been in charge of these areas, not acting as an assistant to a hired professional or school staff member.
- The DPAC Rising Star Awards will accept student nominations if that student contributed to part, but not all, of the production. They must still be fully responsible for a complete scene or piece.
  - Example 1: Your school is presenting Mary Poppins. If a student is fully responsible for the choreography of "Step In Time", but did not choreograph the rest of the show, they are still eligible for nomination.
  - Example 2: Your school is presenting Disney's The Little Mermaid. If a student is fully responsible for designing Ursula's costume, but did not design costumes for all other characters, they are still eligible for nomination.

Guidelines for Best Student Set Design Nominations:

- Each registered school musical who has a student, or a group of students, responsible for set design is welcome to nominate them for this awards category.
- Nominees in this category must be students who not only built the set, but were involved in the designing of the set as well.
- The DPAC Rising Star Awards will accept nominations if the student, or group of students, contributed to part, but not all, of the production.
  - Example: Your school is presenting The Sound of Music. If students are fully responsible for the set design for all scenes taking place at the Abbey, but not for the sets used in other scenes, they are still eligible for nomination.

Guidelines for Best Student Orchestra Nominations:

- Each registered school musical being accompanied by a live student orchestra is welcome to nominate their student orchestra for this awards category.
- DPAC understands that often orchestras for school productions will include a small handful of adult professionals to help round out the group. As long as the majority of orchestra members are student musicians, those school orchestras will be eligible for this awards category.
- The students who comprise the orchestra must be enrolled at that participating high school.

Step Three

Post-Show Production Submissions

CLICK HERE TO SUBMIT STEP 3

The third and final step, Post-Show Production Submissions, is due two weeks following Closing Night of the registered musical, or by April 19 (whichever comes first).

PLEASE NOTE: this final phase of the application process is the most time consuming for participating schools to complete. We recommend working ahead whenever possible. While the designated school representative is ultimately responsible for uploading these materials, we highly encourage putting some of these tasks into the hands of the students.

Post-Show Production Submissions: These items will help Rising Star judges when they meet in the spring to determine Finalists in all awards categories, and Winners in production awards categories.

Schools will be asked to submit the following items:

• Production Photos

- Production Photos Featuring the Ensemble (3 photos)
  - Saved as: Musical Name School Name Ensemble 1

Video Submission Guidelines – Our Promise

Video submissions are not scored or adjudicated. Only live performances are scored and adjudicated. This year, DPAC is not asking any school to submit a highlight reel or other videos from their production. We will still require videos featuring each student nominated for Best Actor and Best Actress.

Why does DPAC ask for these videos? These videos are incredibly important for the Year-Round Lead Judges, who use them as reference points when looking back at nominated students performances from the full season.

Last season, Rising Star judges reviewed 44 high school musical productions that spanned over 6 months time. While all judges take thoughtful and detailed notes, they consume high volumes of high school musical theatre each season. Additionally, not all judges attend each registered musical, so these videos are useful tools in getting all judges on the same page. Rising Star judges remain adamant that some video elements are crucial to their decision-making process.

The DPAC Rising Star Awards promise that any videos submitted will not be used publicly. We also guarantee that these videos are only used as tools to jog memory, and as supplementary materials that provide context for any judge in the decision-making room who was not assigned to adjudicate that particular production.

Tickets For Adjudicators

What Participating Schools Can Expect This Season

As a part of participating in The DPAC Rising Star Awards, each school agrees to provide complimentary tickets to their production for Rising Star judges.

Ticket Requests

DPAC will send an email to each school representative on the Monday prior to the Opening Night performance.

This email will include the exact number of tickets needed for Rising Star judges for each performance. DPAC requires that participating schools place tickets at will-call for adjudicators to pick up in person upon their arrival. If your school uses mobile tickets or any other ticketing process, it is important that you clearly communicate this with DPAC so that the judges can be prepared for a different arrival/entry process.

Seating

While DPAC does not have any specific requirements relating to where judges should be seated, we recommend placing judges in seating areas where they will have a clear, unobstructed view of the entire show.

Anonymity

It is important that Rising Star judges maintain anonymity when attending school productions.

Rising Star judges have reported experiencing situations in previous seasons where staff or students drew great attention to their presence, making the judging process uncomfortable. DPAC asks that schools help our judges maintain anonymity by avoiding the use of seat tags with The DPAC Rising Star Awards printed, and refraining from offering any special welcome directed towards the judges.

DPAC's Promise

DPAC promises to sent at least 3 adjudicators (1 Lead Judge and 2 Year-Round Judges) to review each participating show.

Judges will be spread out, ensuring coverage at more than one performance.

DPAC also promises to place a cap on judge sign-ups: DPAC will never request more than 12 tickets to any musical production.

Additional Opportunities

Wait, There's More!

THE DPAC RISING STAR AWARDS - STUDENT ENSEMBLE

Each participating school is invited to send up to 2 high school students to perform in The DPAC Rising Star Awards Ensemble. These students will have the opportunity perform on the DPAC stage and to work with The DPAC Rising Star Awards creative team. The Ensemble will be featured in both the Opening and Closing Numbers during the awards ceremony.

For the first time ever this year, Ensemble members are eligible for one of four "Outstanding Performance in an Ensemble" Awards.

It is entirely up to each school to determine how these 2 students are selected. While it is not required, our Music Director would love if each school sent one who is either Soprano or Alto and one who is Tenor, Baritone or Bass. DPAC's only requirement is that the Ensemble students may not also be any student named as a Finalist.

The deadline to submit students for the Ensemble is Wednesday, April 22, 2026. This deadline falls shortly after all student Finalists are contacted, to help prevent any overlap.

Additional Opportunities (Continued)

THE DPAC RISING STAR AWARDS – STUDENT REPORTERS

In partnership with ABC11, DPAC will appoint two students to serve as Student Reporters for The DPAC Rising Star Awards.

These two students will have behind-the-scenes access during the Rising Star rehearsal process, and will be given a platform on DPAC's social media channels to report on their experiences. Student Reporters will be mentored by media professionals at ABC11, will interview performers at an exclusive red carpet pre-show event, and will report live from DPAC throughout the evening during the awards ceremony. These two students will be recognized during the awards ceremony, receiving a trophy presented by ABC11.

The DPAC Rising Star Awards' Student Reporters will also be submitted to the Jimmy Awards' national Student Reporter search, making them eligible for selection to be reporters in New York City at the Jimmy Awards. The Jimmy Awards' Student Reporters get an all expense paid trip to NYC where they'll attend Jimmy Awards rehearsals and meet nominees from across the country. They will work with media professionals on the national level, interview stars on the Jimmy Awards' red carpet, plus will have visibility on the Jimmy Awards social media channels.

Any student who applies for a Student Reporter position with The DPAC Rising Star Awards must be currently enrolled at a participating high school.

More information about how to apply will be emailed to all participating schools in the early spring.

THE DPAC RISING STAR AWARDS – VISUAL ARTS GALLERY

In partnership with Durham Art Guild, The DPAC Rising Star Awards will have a visual arts gallery on display in DPAC's lobby during the awards ceremony. This gallery will feature visual artwork created by students who are currently enrolled at a participating high school.

Jurors appointed by Durham Art Guild will review all submissions and will select pieces to be on display at DPAC during The DPAC Rising Star Awards.

Information about how to submit artwork for consideration will be emailed to participating high schools following the December 1 registration deadline.

Adjudication Details

Illuminating the Judging Process for The DPAC Rising Star Awards

The DPAC Rising Star Awards includes three different groups of judges.

YEAR-ROUND JUDGES

Who are they? The DPAC Rising Star Awards has a team of about 30 year-round judges. These year-round judges undergo special trainings and attend an annual Orientation, making them qualified to participate that season. Year-round judges consist of industry professionals who are employed, or who were previously employed, at area theaters and other reputable arts organizations. Year-round judges may also be media professionals, experienced performers, educators or coaches.

What's their role? Year-round judges volunteer their time and expertise by attending about 4 high school musical theater productions each season. These year-round judges submit scores and comments after attending each production. These scores and comments are combined and tallied, all of which are used to determine Finalists in all categories and Winners in the production categories.

YEAR-ROUND LEAD JUDGES

Who are they? The DPAC Rising Star Awards has a total of 8 year-round lead judges. These lead judges also undergo special trainings and attend an annual Orientation, making them qualified to participate that season. Lead judges all have deep knowledge of Musical Theater, Broadway and BFA programs. They are producers, directors, educators, and industry professionals who audition regularly and/or audition actors regularly, and who understand the full scope of the theater process.

What's their role? Year-round judges volunteer their time and expertise by attending between 8 to 12 high school musical theater productions each season. At least one lead judge (often more than one) is guaranteed to attend each registered musical. Lead judges also submit scores and comments after attending each show which are combined and tallied with the year-round judge scores.

Lead judges come together in the spring to review all tallied scores and comments. Lead judges also review all submitted video and photo materials. Lead judges select Finalists in all awards categories, and the Winners of all production awards categories.

CEREMONY JUDGES

Who are they? The DPAC Rising Star Awards has a total of 3 ceremony judges each season. Ceremony judges are reputable industry professionals – they are usually actors with Broadway credits, talent agents, or casting directors. Ceremony judges never overlap with the year-round judging panel.

What's their role? Ceremony judges will review performances by the 20 Finalists and will select which student is named "Best Actor" and which student is named "Best Actress".

Adjudication Process

Year-Round Judges and Year-Round Lead Judges attend high school theater productions. After attending, they submit scores and written feedback for each show.

Lead Judges gather in the spring to review all tallied scores and discuss each participating show. Lead Judges select Finalists in all awards categories, and Winners in production categories.

Ceremony Judges adjudicate live during The DPAC Rising Star Awards event. Ceremony Judges determine Winners in the Best Actor and Best Actress categories.
